A wide-angle photograph of a modern office lobby. The space is characterized by its high ceiling and large, multi-paned windows that offer a view of greenery outside. In the foreground, a curved olive-green sofa sits on a circular, textured rug. A low, round coffee table with a purple top and wooden base is positioned in front of the sofa. To the right, a wooden armchair with a slatted back is visible. The floor is highly reflective, mirroring the interior elements and the view through the windows. In the background, a mezzanine level with a glass railing is visible, and a small dining area with wooden tables and chairs is situated near the windows.
